Explanations

- C – We need will + the base verb be: 'will be twenty'.
- B – The negative of will is will not, or won't in its short form.
- C – Questions with will start with Will + subject + base verb, and will never takes -s.
- D – We make the negative with won't + base verb; we don't add do or -s.
- B – Put will before the subject and keep the base verb: Will Ana be...?
- C – The short negative reply to a future question is 'I hope not.'
- A – Question word + will + subject + base verb: Where will you stay?
- D – Probably comes before won't in negative sentences.
- B – After will we use the base verb with no -s: will choose.
- D – Won't + be makes a negative prediction about the future.
- B – We use will for an offer we decide on at the moment of speaking.
- C – 'I will try' is an offer to help, decided on the spot.
- B – After 'I don't think' we use will, not won't, because the sentence is already negative.
- D – Ravi offers to do a job to help his mum.
- C – 'It won't happen again' is a common promise after an apology.
- B – We make predictions with will + base verb: will rain.
- C – 'I'll lend you some' is a correct offer with will + base verb.
- D – This is a prediction, so we use will + base verb: will feel.
- A – 'I'll be really careful' is a promise about what the speaker will do.
- C – Mia uses will to promise a future action: sending the photos tonight.
- B – A weather forecast is a prediction, so we use will + be.
- A – After 'I'm sure' we use will + base verb for a prediction.
- D – A negative promise uses won't + base verb.
- C – Chloe predicts the future, so she uses will + like.
- C – She says 'I promise', so the sentence is a promise.
- C – After when we use the present simple, so the correct form is 'When I arrive'.
- C – We say 'I don't think + will' and don't use two negatives.
- B – Won't (will not) + base verb is correct. Don't confuse won't with want.
- B – Short answers use the full form 'Yes, I will'. We never end a sentence with I'll.
- D – After will we always use the base verb, so it should be 'will sing'.

Notes for teachers: This is the second test in the series. It moves from form to use, then to a short reading text and error correction. It targets common A2 errors: will + -s or to, 'willn't', 'don't will', 'Yes, I'll' as a short answer, will after when, double negatives with 'I don't think', and confusing won't with want. As a follow-up, students can write a short message to a friend with one prediction, one offer and one promise.
