11 A	12 A	13 A	14 A	15 A	16 A	17 A	18 A	19 A	20 A
21 A	22 A	23 A	24 A	25 A	26 A	27 A	28 B	29 A	30 C

Explicaciones

- A – El futuro continuo se forma con will + be + forma en -ing.
- A – El futuro perfecto se forma con will + have + participio pasado.
- A – La negativa del futuro continuo es won't (will not) + be + forma en -ing.
- A – En las preguntas, will va delante del sujeto, seguido de be + forma en -ing.
- A – La negativa del futuro perfecto es won't + have + participio pasado.
- A – Las preguntas en futuro perfecto siguen el orden will + sujeto + have + participio pasado.
- A – La respuesta corta a una pregunta con will se forma con will/won't.
- A – La pasiva del futuro perfecto es will + have + been + participio pasado; el puente no se construye solo.
- A – Will have + participio pasado (saved) indica que la acción estará terminada antes del próximo junio.
- A – La negativa del futuro continuo necesita won't + be + forma en -ing.
- A – El futuro continuo describe una acción que estará en curso en un momento concreto del futuro.
- A – 'By the time' indica una acción terminada antes de un momento futuro, por lo que se necesita el futuro perfecto.
- A – El futuro perfecto con 'for' expresa la duración total hasta un momento del futuro.
- A – El futuro continuo se usa para preguntar de forma educada por los planes de alguien.
- A – Will be celebrating indica una actividad en curso a medianoche.
- A – El futuro continuo indica que la comida ya estará en marcha en el momento de la llegada.
- A – El futuro perfecto indica que la comida habrá terminado antes de la llegada.
- A – 'By' significa 'no más tarde de' y suele usarse con el futuro perfecto; usar 'until' aquí es un error frecuente.
- A – Sofia describe una situación que estará en curso dentro de dos semanas.
- A – 'By the time' indica que la maleta estará hecha antes de que Marco lea el correo.
- A – La acción estará en curso en un momento concreto (hacia las diez del sábado).
- A – La negativa del futuro continuo describe lo que no estará ocurriendo en ese momento como consecuencia natural de la situación.
- A – 'By the summer' + 'for four months' expresa una duración hasta un momento futuro, por eso se usa el futuro perfecto.
- A – El futuro continuo es una forma natural y educada de preguntar por los planes futuros de alguien.
- A – En las oraciones temporales se usa el presente simple (arrive) y la oración principal necesita el futuro perfecto.
- A – Después de 'when' con referencia al futuro se usa el presente simple: 'When I get home'.
- A – El futuro perfecto necesita el participio pasado: 'will have known'.
- B – 'Know' es un verbo de estado y normalmente no se usa en forma continua; la forma correcta es 'will know'.
- A – La pregunta usa will + sujeto + have + participio pasado, con 'by' para indicar un plazo.
- C – El futuro continuo necesita la forma en -ing: 'will be having'.

Notas para el profesor: Use la Parte 1 para comprobar la forma y las Partes 2 y 3 para ver si los alumnos distinguen entre una acción en curso en un momento futuro y una acción terminada antes de un momento futuro. El test se centra en errores frecuentes como usar 'will' en oraciones temporales, 'until' en lugar de 'by', olvidar el participio pasado o poner verbos de estado en forma continua. Como actividad de seguimiento, pida a los alumnos que escriban sus propias frases con 'This time next year...' y 'By the time I'm 30...' y que las intercambien para corregirlas entre compañeros.
